

Make Mondays Matter
for
Grass Lake Area Historical Society

In August 1971, with the purchase of the Coe House for use as a museum, a valuable asset was presented to the community of Grass Lake. For over 30 years, the second floor was used as a rental and supported the maintenance and operation of the facility. Recently, the decision was made to offer more to the community by using the entire house for collections, exhibits and local research. This summer, the Board of the GLAHS has been very busy readying the expanded facility for the community. The Re-opening took place at Heritage Day on September 10, 2011.

We no longer will have rentals to meet our monthly expenses. As a rejuvenated and refocused Historical Society, it is our hope that the community will see the need for supporting this community asset. To this end, we have developed a planned giving project that we believe can fit everyone's budget. Rather than ask anyone to commit funds beyond what they're already spending, we're suggesting that each of you look for one way you spend now which could be changed to a pledge commitment to the Coe House. For example, giving up one cup of coffee each week or asking for iced water instead of iced tea at lunch and pledging that amount to support your community museum would make little difference to you but a world of difference to the Historical Society.

Make Mondays Matter asks that you pledge a small amount for each Monday of the month. If $1 is pledged, a 4-Monday month would be a $4.00 donation to the Society. You could choose to send your donation monthly, quarterly, or annually - whatever suits you.

If you have any questions about the 3-M Project (Make Mondays Matter) of the Grass Lake Area Historical Society, feel free to call Marilyn O'Leary at 522-8324 or any Board member. We hope you can see value in local support of local institutions!

To receive pledge slips, please send your pledge card to: GLAHS - 3M Project, P.O. Box 53, Grass Lake, MI 49240. Please let us know if you need a charitable contribution form.
